For students and graduates of an international medical school to be eligible for Certification by the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG) and for the USMLE examinations as a step toward ECFMG Certification, the medical school must be recognized by the proper governing authorities in the country in which the medical school is located. In addition, the medical school's graduates must be eligible to practice medicine in that country. ECFMG requires this information be provided by a government agency or ministry responsible for medical education or licensure in the country in which the school is located. Please complete the following information about the medical school below. The form must also include an official seal. The form cannot be completed by a medical school or university.

Return this form, complete with signature and seal, to MedSchoolReview@ecfm.org, or by mail to ECFMG, Attention: Medical School Review at the address provided above. This information will be reviewed for consideration by ECFMG.
